

BECOME A PRECEPTOR: HELP US SHAPE THE NEXT GENERATION of Dietetics Professionals

Want to make a lasting impact on the field? Consider hosting a dietetic intern from Illinois State University! Our graduate program offers you the opportunity to mentor the next generation of Registered Dietitian Nutritionists and give back to the field of nutrition and dietetics. Preceptors play a pivotal role in student growth while benefiting from fresh perspectives and contributing towards advancing the profession.

Why Partner with Us?

- Thorough Student Preparation: Students in our program complete a dietetic internship prep course to ensure they have the foundational knowledge to be successful in their internship.
- Transparency and Support: Preceptors receive comprehensive training and access to faculty support throughout the student's internship.
- Flexible Curriculum: We've worked with preceptors to design a curriculum that is tailored to meet the needs of your facility and the student's learning objectives.
- Accredited Excellence: Fully accredited by the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND), ensuring the highest educational standards.
- Opportunities for Continuing Education Credit: Earn CEU credit for hosting our interns!

Preceptor Responsibilities:

- Communicate with the program about intern progress
- Guide and mentor interns
- Provide diverse learning experiences
- Complete ILSTU's preceptor training

What Preceptors Have to Say About Our Program:

- "Organized ahead of time regarding rotation dates, offer quality students, gives the student a variety of experiences."
- "The organization this internship has is the best around. The students as well as preceptors know exactly when to expect interns making life much easier on all."
- "Allows students an array of opportunities in which to gain experience and not be held geographically and helps grow the profession."

Thank you for considering this opportunity. Together, we can inspire the next generation of dietitians. Contact us at dieteticinternship@ilstu.edu with any questions or to get started.
